I, May Chen, give the following statement voluntarily. I have lived at 1420 Elm Street for thirty-one years. My house is directly next door to the Elm Street house of John and Mary Smith, on the left side if you are facing the street. Our driveways are side by side with a strip of grass in between. I have known the family since their son Steve was a little boy. Mary and I have coffee most Sunday mornings.

On Friday, May 3, 2024, I was home alone all evening. At around a quarter to ten I heard a car door and an engine next door, and I think the gray Honda left, but I was in the kitchen and I did not see who was in it. Their granddaughter Emily has been staying with them, so I assumed it was Mary taking her somewhere, but I don't know that.

At about 10:05 PM I took my trash can out to the curb because Saturday is pickup. While I was at the curb I saw the silver pickup truck back out of the 1418 Elm driveway. That is Mr. Smith's truck. He is the only one who drives it. The porch light at their house was off, but the streetlight is on the corner. The driver was wearing a baseball cap and a dark coat. I saw him from behind and from the side as he got in and backed out. I did not see his face. I waved, the way I always do, but he did not wave back, which I thought was strange for John.

I went to bed around 11:30 but I could not sleep. A little before midnight I heard the truck pull back in. I looked out my bedroom window, which faces their side door, and I saw Mr. Smith walk from the truck to the side door and go in. He had the same cap on. Again I only saw his back.

I did not see anyone else come or go that night. I did not notice whether the Honda came back. I did not hear any arguing.

QUESTIONS BY DET. KOWALSKI / ANSWERS BY WITNESS

Q: When you say Mr. Smith, which person do you mean?

A: John. John Smith, the father. Steve doesn't live there anymore. He lives in Towson. I know his car, it's a little blue one, and I don't remember if it was there or not.

Q: How sure are you that the driver was John Smith?

A: I would say pretty sure. Eighty percent. It was his truck and he was built like John. But Steve is built like him too. They are both big men. I did not see a face.

Q: How far were you from the driver?

A: From the curb to their driveway, maybe forty feet. I had my glasses on.

Q: Are you related to Officer Chen, who is taking this statement?

A: No. We were just laughing about that. It is a common name.

Q: Is there anything else you want to add?

A: May I say one thing? John is a good neighbor. He shoveled my walk every winter after my husband passed. I am only telling you what I saw. I don't want to get anybody in trouble.

Q: Did you speak to anyone in that family about this before today?

A: No. I saw Mrs. Smith this morning getting the paper but we only said good morning. She looked tired.

I have read this statement consisting of 2 pages, and it is true and correct to the best of my knowledge. I gave it of my own free will, without threats or promises.
